Description

Provide a short description of the event and its activities.

The project brought the possibility of preserving traditions in EU countries. We managed to transfer traditions to modern times and connect them with current topics related to events in the EU. As part of the project, we created a space for getting to know the cultural and linguistic diversity of the partners. We held a discussion on topics that the EU is currently addressing and the future of Europe. We supported getting to know each other between citizens of 4 European countries. We contributed to creating the future of the partnership. The selection of topics and elements that the project addressed is deliberate with respect to the partners' area of operation and the current needs of society. These are elements/topics that currently resonate. Their task is to connect people from different corners of Europe, transport European values among ordinary citizens, and involve citizens in solving the future of Europe. We supported the fulfillment of the main project's goal: to create a space for connecting citizens through traditions, current events, and the future.
